Dear Jerry:

I would like to thank you for making our recent management retreat such a resounding success. Your presentation not only set the stage for our annual strategic planning session, but opened our eyes to the endless possibilities our future might hold.

Comments from the Management Team included, "eye opening, mind blowing, excellent, enlightening, destiny controlling, very useful, and time well spent". We expect to include you in future meetings, as many participants are interested in your other programs.

Thank you for an interesting and thought provoking presentation.

Sincerely,
